Achievements of the institution in the overall development of the district:

The institution has contributed considerably in bringing the tribal population to the main stream of development. Through its different branches it has helped in removing the curse of illiteracy. Institutions like the College of law (the only law college in the district is run by the Nandurbar Taluka Vidhayak Samiti) have a great share in the spread of legal awareness among the Adivasis. The college also has a free legal aid service cell for the poor and the needy. It has as a part of its academics conducted various surveys in the Nandurbar District. These were focused on the awareness of law and legislative institutions and administrative bodies in the country. The results of these surveys were shocking. Majority of them was unaware of their rights that resulted in their violation and they suffered at every walk of life. We have conducted various Legal Aid Camps in this tribal district for the awareness of legal rights and various important Laws.

It was a great opportunity for the institution to conduct Legal Aid Camps's for the needy people with the assistance of National Legal Services Authority, New Delhi, & Maharashtra State Legal Services Authority, Mumbai.

While conducting Legal Aid Camp, its time & place was declared through the local newspapers and the message was also communicated to the villagers in advance. The Sarpanch, Dept.Sarpanch, Police Patil, Village officers were contacted firstly and also invited in the camps who were assisting us for conducting the Legal Aid Camps. The tribal students from the college were selected for communicating the provisions of law in the local Adivasi language and it proved as an effective means of communication for the tribal people of the district.

Keeping the view in mind that the only oral communication about law is not sufficient in this area, a booklet was prepared containing the information of basic rights and important essential provisions of law in simple language. These booklets were distributed in to each person in every camp.

The institute has also helped in conduction of various programmes like pulse polio immunization; tree plantation; Disease Diagnosis Camps; Aids awareness programmes, eradication of superstitiousness, awareness of problems of tobacco habit, etc.
